COLLEGE OF FINE AND PROFESSIONAL ARTS

The disciplines represented within the College of Fine and Professional Arts are linked by common elements of creativity and professionalism. These programs provide students with broad educational resources to develop necessary sensibilities, knowledge and skills required in creative and professional endeavors. With this in mind, the college provides intensive preparation in the various disciplines in addition to a broad range of experiences designed to foster understanding of our common intellectual and artistic heritage.

The college includes 11 schools: Architecture and Environmental Design, Art, Communication Studies, Exercise, Leisure and Sport, Family and Consumer Studies, Fashion Design and Merchandising, Journalism and Mass Communication, Library and Information Science, Music, Speech Pathology and Audiology, and Theatre and Dance. Academic programs within the 11 schools are organized around three clusters: information and communication studies, fine arts and design, and health sciences and human services.

The college also administers the Kent/Blossom festivals offering advanced summer study in art, music and theatre in cooperation with Blossom Music Center, summer home of The Cleveland Orchestra. The university owns and operates Porthouse Theatre and Eells Art Gallery at Blossom Music Center, 20 minutes from the Kent Campus. (For additional information, see page 58.)

The Kent State University Museum in Rockwell Hall maintains an extraordinary collection of 10,000 costumes and accessories, 1,000 pieces of decorative art and a 5,000-volume reference library. Closely allied with the Shannon Rodgers and Jerry Silverman School of Fashion Design and Merchandising, the museum provides students with first-hand experience with historic and contemporary fashions and costumes from many world cultures. (For additional information, see page 59.)

DEGREES

The college awards five undergraduate degrees: Bachelor of Architecture, Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of Music and Bachelor of Science. Programs leading to the Master of Architecture, Master of Arts, Master of Fine Arts, Master of Library Science, Master of Music, Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees are also offered in the college. Information about the graduate programs appears in the Graduate Schools Catalog.

The School of Architecture and Environmental Design offers a fully accredited, five-year professional program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Architecture. The program requires a total of 161 semester hours of credit. Requirements for this degree are listed in the School of Architecture and Environmental Design section of this Catalog.

Students who wish to support their specialized and professional studies with an extensive foundation in the liberal arts are encouraged to earn the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.). This degree is available to students in art, communication studies, family and consumer studies, fashion design and merchandising, music and theatre. For a description of programs leading to this degree see the individual school sections of this Catalog.

Students specializing in art or theatre may earn the Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A.). Programs for this degree provide a more intensive specialization than those for the Bachelor of Arts while still providing a solid foundation in the liberal arts. For a description of programs leading to this degree see School of Art and School of Theatre and Dance sections of this Catalog.

The Bachelor of Music curriculum in performance, composition and theory provides the most intensive specialization for music students while still providing a solid foundation in the liberal arts. Those interested in college or conservatory teaching are specifically advised to pursue this degree. For the complete curriculum, see page 293.

The curriculum for the Bachelor of Music in Music Education leads to the Ohio Special Certificate in Music. All students expecting to teach music in the public schools, grades one to 12, will pursue this degree in music education. See page 295.

In architecture, art, dance, exercise, leisure and sport, family and consumer studies, fashion design and merchandising, journalism and mass communication, and speech pathology and audiology, the college offers the Bachelor of Science. In general, programs for the Bachelor of Science provide for more specialization than those for the Bachelor of Arts while still providing a solid foundation in the liberal arts. For descriptions of programs leading to this degree see the individual school sections of this Catalog.

Health and Human Services Associate's Degree Programs

Associate's degree programs in the health and human services areas are available at the Regional Campuses as part of the overall programs of two schools within the College of Fine and Professional Arts. Affiliated with the School of Family and Consumer Studies is the human services technology program located at both the Salem and Ashtabula Campuses. Affiliated with the School of Speech Pathology and Audiology are the radiological technology program (Salem Campus), physical therapist assistant program (East Liverpool and Ashtabula Campuses), and the occupational therapist assistant program (East Liverpool Campus). These programs are described in the "Regional Campuses" section of this Catalog.

Teacher Preparation

A student who wishes to teach in the public schools may be licensed in the state of Ohio by enrolling in certain programs in the College of Fine and Professional Arts and declaring a minor in education. Art, dance education, music education, family and consumer studies, physical education, and speech pathology and audiology are areas in which students may seek licensure to teach students aged 3 to 21.

SPECIAL NOTICE

In order to enroll in upper-division professional education coursework, students seeking licensure must be admitted to the education minor in the College of Education. Refer to the College of Education section of this Catalog for specific information about this process.

Admission

Selective admission criteria are used in some programs in the college. Students desiring to major in communication studies, dance, interior design, theatre, speech pathology and audiology, or in programs within the Schools of Journalism and Mass Communication or Fashion Design and Merchandising are admitted as premajors, then accepted into the appropriate program only after specific requirements have been met. Specialized requirements have also been established in the Schools of Architecture and Environmental Design, and Music. It is imperative that the student contact the individual school for detailed information.

Students with an interest in a program for which he or she is not qualified are admitted into the Fine and Professional Arts general category until requirements are met.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Regular consultation with a faculty adviser is an essential aspect of all students' personal academic management and planning. Consultation at least once each semester for scheduling advice and approval of completed registration documents is the minimum expectation. During the freshman year, the students' faculty adviser is their UNIVERSITY ORIENTATION INSTRUCTOR. Beginning in the sophomore year, students should go to their school office to obtain a permanent academic adviser. The academic adviser is to be consulted first on all matters relating to a student's academic performance and progress.

The Office of Academic Services, located in Taylor Hall, is an additional source of information dealing with academic requirements and student progress toward completion of degree programs. This office provides services to students who are undecided about a choice of academic major, who are contemplating general changes of academic programs, and those placed on academic probation; also, it treats other issues beyond the immediate purview of the school in which the students' academic adviser is based. Advisers may be seen by appointment by calling the Office of Academic Services at (330) 672-2780.

It is the student's responsibility to seek out and use the advising resources available.

Requirement Sheets

Upon completion of 60 semester hours, students are required to contact the college advising office in Taylor Hall to obtain a requirement sheet bearing a current evaluation of all progress toward completion of the students' chosen degree program. Requirement evaluations are not a substitute for meeting with a faculty adviser. Students enrolled in programs that have been coded in the KAPS (Kent Academic Progress) system will receive reports of progress in their majors each semester. Questions about KAPS reports are answered in the college advising office.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR MEETING ALL GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS rests with students. The various advising services provided by the schools and the college are an effort to support and assist students in meeting this responsibility. Students' failure to comply with all duly publicized academic requirements, however, is not the responsibility of the university.

Transfer Advising

Students transferring into the college from another university should make an appointment in the college advising office to determine applicability of transfer credits to their program before registering for classes. In some cases, the students will then be referred to their school for a determination on specialized courses. Those seeking admission to the Schools of Art or Music or to programs with specialized admissions requirements should check the school's section of this Catalog for special requirements.

Teacher Preparation Advising

Students who wish to be licensed as teachers must be accepted by the College of Education and satisfy course requirements and meet professional standards established by the College of Education. Students must consult the education adviser in 306 White Hall to be accepted into the education minor. It is important that students accomplish this prior to the junior year. Requirements for the education licensure are listed in the "College of Education" section of this Catalog.

GENERAL ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS

Scholastic Requirements

All candidates for a degree in the College of Fine and Professional Arts must meet all requirements listed under the program of their major in this Catalog. In addition, students must meet the following scholastic qualifications:

1. A cumulative overall GPA of at least 2.00 (C) for all courses taken at Kent State University.
2. A cumulative GPA of at least 2.25 in the major and, where applicable, the minor. Certain programs require higher GPAs. Consult the degree requirements for the major as listed in this Catalog.
3. A 2.50 cumulative GPA when seeking licensure under the education minor program.
4. Successful completion of at least 39 upper-division hours of coursework. Upper-division courses are numbered 30000-49999.

Liberal Education Requirements

To receive a baccalaureate degree from the College of Fine and Professional Arts, a student must, in addition to other requirements, satisfy the 36-hour minimum stipulated in the LERs.

Students may not use courses in the major to fulfill this requirement and must choose courses from the LERs list; substitutions are not permitted. In some cases proficiency may be used to fulfill certain areas of the requirement. Students must meet any special requirements listed for each LER category. See pages 77-80 for details.

Some majors have specific requirements within these areas. Please check the requirements for your major as listed in this Catalog.

College English

Students required to complete College English should enroll during their first semester. College English should be taken continuously until the full requirement is satisfied.

For additional information about placement into the English sequence and alternate means of fulfilling the requirement, see pages 31-32.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirement

Refer to either pages 64 or 84-85 of this Catalog for specific information on the Writing-Intensive Course Requirement.

Foreign Language Study

A student who elects to fulfill the mathematics, logic and foreign languages category of the LERs with a foreign language must complete at least two semesters of study (or equivalent) in the same language. Some programs require more. Or equivalent means that a student may demonstrate proficiency in a language through the CLEP (College Level Examination Program), or the CBE (Credit-By-Examination) programs.

In addition, if a student begins at a more advanced level than Beginning I, fewer semesters of study may be required to complete the requirement, but the hours exempted are still required for graduation and may serve the student's major or minor or be used as electives.

A student who has studied a foreign language in high school and who wishes to continue in that language must begin college-level study at the appropriate point. Further information about placement may be obtained from the department offering that language.

Students with a native language other than English* may not register for, or receive credit in, coursework on the elementary or intermediate level in that language or in a closely related language as determined by the chairperson of the appropriate department or the Director of the Critical Languages Program. Students with a first (not native) language other than English* may be permitted to enroll in, and receive credit for, coursework on the elementary and/or intermediate level. Permission will be granted on a case-by-case basis by the chairperson of the appropriate department or the Director of the Critical Languages Program after evaluation of the student's skills in that language.

For definition of the terms "native language" and "first language" above, see page 31, under "Foreign Languages."

Changing Catalogs

(Also see "General Requirements and Regulations", page 63.)

To begin meeting the requirements of a newer catalog, the student must register the change in the Office of Academic Services by completing the proper form. All requirements of the new catalog must be met. No substitutions or waivers will be made. Once a student has moved to a more recent catalog, he/she may not return to the previous catalog.

Students are required to change catalogs after failing to complete at least 12 semester hours in two calendar years and when returning to the university after dismissal. The catalog to be followed will be the one in force the semester the appropriate change goes into effect.

Pass-Fail Option

Courses used to meet the university's LERs are excluded from the pass-fail option. Courses taken within the major, minor or in completion of certificate programs are also excluded. Only free electives—courses not used to satisfy any specific requirement—may be taken on a pass-fail basis. See pass-fail policy on page 70-71 of this Catalog.

Graduation Procedures

The application for graduation must be submitted to the Office of Academic Services in 202-C Taylor Hall according to the deadlines published in this Catalog (see page 67) and in the Schedule of Classes booklet. The deadline for application is generally two full semesters before graduation. Once students have applied for graduation, they cannot change catalogs, major, minor or area of concentration. If students do this, they will be moved to the next graduation.

Prerequisites

In areas where learning is sequential, courses often have required prerequisites. These prerequisites exist to protect students from attempting coursework for which they are not properly prepared. It is the responsibility of the students to make certain that they have met all prerequisites before entering any course.

No Credit Courses

Three of the courses that may be prescribed or recommended through placement testing, MATH 10004, US 10003 and US 10006, do not generate credit toward graduation. Although these courses will count toward the course load for financial aid and other purposes, hours taken in these courses will be subtracted from the students' total before graduation.

Other basic skills courses, including ENG 10000, MATH 10005 and SP&A 10001, do count toward general elective hours only.

Some courses do not generate credit within particular programs. For instance, Art 12001, Art Survey, and JMC 20001, Media, Power and Culture, do not generate credit for majors within their respective schools. Check course descriptions carefully in this Catalog for more information.

Residence

Kent State University residence requirements for an undergraduate degree may be met at the Kent Campus and/or Regional Campuses through the final 30 credit hours. Under unusual circumstances students may request a minor modification of this requirement by contacting the assistant dean of the college prior to registration elsewhere.

Course Substitutions

Students who desire to substitute a course for one required in their program must secure written approval from the Office of Academic Services prior to enrolling in the substitute course.

PEB—ROTC

No more than 4 hours of PEB activities courses or the first 16 hours of ROTC courses may apply to the 121 semester hours required for graduation.

Veterans who have completed a minimum of one year of active duty may receive PEB credit for military basic training according to branch of service, as follows: Army and Marine Corps, 3 credit hours; Navy and Coast Guard, 2 hours; Air Force, 1 hour.

Natural Sciences

Credit toward fulfilling the natural science requirement is not given for the following combinations:

- both the PSCI 11660 series and the CHEM 10050 series, the CHEM 10060 series, and/or the PHY 13001 series;
- both the CHEM 10050 series and the CHEM 10060 series;
- both the PHY 13001 series and the PHY 23101 series;
- both MATH 11011 and MATH 12001.

INTEGRATED HEALTH STUDIES

The College of Fine and Professional Arts provides a Bachelor of Science degree in Integrated Health Studies. The program was started in Fall 1999. For more information about the integrated health studies program, contact the Dean's Office in the College of Fine and Professional Arts.

The integrated health studies program is designed for students with interest in pursuing studies related to the health professions. All students complete the university's 36-hour LERs. The integrated health studies 17-hour core provides students with an overview of the health field, and includes courses related to careers, medical terminology, health care ethics, health care policy and delivery systems, research design and statistical analysis, and a professional seminar. The core is designed to provide the students with a context in which to consider their particular area of concentration. Students may select one of three concentrations: health sciences, health services, or health care administration and systems. The health sciences concentration is designed to be a strong science-based program for students interested in graduate studies in health-related fields such as physical or occupational therapy or as a general degree for students interested in the health field. The health services concentration provides a comprehensive study of the health professions, human development and health services. This concentration also is designed to provide a 2 + 2 baccalaureate degree for students with associate's degrees in areas of allied health, such as physical or occupational therapy assisting technology. The health care administration and services concentration is designed for students wanting to prepare for management positions in the health care industry. This concentration provides a strong core of business courses including marketing, management, finance, economics, accounting and human resource management, as well as specialized courses related to long-term care administration.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS:

To receive a Bachelor of Science degree in Integrated Health Studies, a student must satisfy the 36-hour minimum requirement stipulated in the LERs (see pages 77-80 of this Catalog). Students must complete a minimum of 39 upper-division (30000 or 40000) courses. Students must have a cumulative GPA of at least a 2.00 for all courses taken at Kent State University. Students must have a 2.25 GPA for all courses taken in their major and minor when one is selected. Major courses will be considered all courses in the core.

WRITING-INTENSIVE COURSE REQUIREMENT:

All students at Kent State University must complete a writing-intensive course in their major. Refer to pages 64 and 84-85 of this Catalog for specific information on the Writing-Intensive Course Requirement. For majors, IHS 44091, Professional Seminar in Integrated Health Studies, is the course designated to meet the writing-intensive course requirement.

MINORS

Students who seek the B.A. degree in some programs may be required to complete a minor. The minor may be selected from the following list. In certain circumstances, an individually planned minor may be approved upon recommendation of the director of the school in which the students are enrolled and the chairperson of the department in which the minors are proposed. However, an individualized minor is not officially recognized. Consult the program descriptions listed by the schools to determine if a minor is required.

Generally it is not permitted to elect a major and a minor from the same school; special permission should be obtained from the school by students wishing to do so.

Where major and minor requirements overlap, students may apply courses in both areas.

SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE AND ENVIRONMENTAL DESIGN

The School of Architecture and Environmental Design offers the following sequence of degree programs: (1) a preprofessional Bachelor of Science degree, four years; (2) a professional Bachelor of Architecture degree, one year; and (3) a Master of Architecture degree. The professional program is accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board (NAAB).

The four-year program in architecture leads to the preprofessional degree, B.S. The first two years of this program emphasize liberal arts studies and basic architecture theory and history. The third and fourth years of the program emphasize architectural design and architectural technology. The B.S. degree requires a total of 121 credit hours that includes 78 credit hours of architecture courses. To receive this degree, students must attain a 2.25 GPA in architecture.

Upon completion of the four-year B.S. program, students who are qualified may apply for the one-year Bachelor of Architecture program. This program consists of professional-level coursework that emphasizes design and practice-related studies. The degree requires a minimum of 32 hours of study with a 2.50 GPA. Students enrolling in this professional-level program must have secured a minimum 2.50 GPA in their nonprofessional degree. Students successfully completing this course of study are eligible to take the State Board Examination for Architects after a three-year apprenticeship in an architect's office.

Students holding the preprofessional B.S. degree may also enroll in the concurrent two-year Bachelor of Architecture and Master of Architecture Program.

The Master of Architecture program is designed for students who wish to explore in greater depth subjects related to urban design, preservation of the built environment, architectural design or architectural technology. Students enrolling in the graduate program must have secured a minimum 2.75 GPA in their undergraduate studies. See the Graduate Schools Catalog for detailed information on the graduate program.

In the United States, most state registration boards require a degree from an accredited professional degree program as a prerequisite for licensure. The NAAB, which is the sole agency authorized to accredit U.S. professional degree programs in architecture, recognizes two types of degrees: the Bachelor of Architecture and the Master of Architecture. A program may be granted a five-year, three-year, or two-year term of accreditation, depending on its degree of conformance with established educational standards.

Masters degree programs may consist of a preprofessional undergraduate degree and a professional graduate degree, which, when earned sequentially, comprise an accredited professional education. However, the preprofessional degree is not, by itself, recognized as an accredited degree.

The preprofessional degree is useful for those wishing a foundation in the field of architecture, as preparation for either continued education in a professional degree program or for employment options in architecturally related areas.

Student organizations within the school include the American Institute of Architecture Students (AIAS) and Tau Sigma Delta, honorary architecture fraternity.

The mission of the School of Architecture and Environmental Design is to encourage development of inquiring, responsible persons who will dedicate themselves to the improvement of the quality of life, the enhancement of the physical environment, and the protection of the public welfare as related to architecture and urban design. The values to be developed are spiritual as well as physical, social as well as economic, and aesthetic as well as technical. Moreover, it is essential that persons studying environmental design and architecture develop an understanding of the finite nature of resources as well as the art and science of building.

Architectural Study Abroad

The school offers a special Architectural Study Opportunity each year in Florence, Italy. This program is open to all third-year students who have made satisfactory progress toward the completion of their degree.

The Urban Design Center of Northeast Ohio

The Urban Design Center of Northeast Ohio assists communities and neighborhoods in their planning efforts, sponsors educational forums, and disseminates information on urban design. Students in the architecture program at Kent State University can participate in Urban Design Center projects as a way of gaining experience in hands-on problem solving.

Recommended High School Preparation

The best preparation is the traditional college preparatory sequence of courses. A strong background in mathematics and English (with emphasis on grammar and composition) is encouraged. A recommended program of studies for architecture includes: four years of English, three years of mathematics (including trigonometry), three years of laboratory sciences (including physics), three years of social science, two years of foreign language, and one year of studio art.

Requirements for Admission for High School Students

While Kent State University is an open admissions university that offers admission to Ohio students who are graduates of accredited high schools, admission to the School of Architecture is highly selective. Of the students who apply each year to architecture, only 100 are selected for admission to the program. Of the remaining applicants, approximately 50 are selected as alternates. Should additional space become available prior to the beginning of fall semester, spaces will be filled from the roster of alternatives.

Students not admitted to the program may qualify for admission to the College of Fine and Professional Arts as a general major. These students may be admitted to architecture during the fall semester of their second year. They must complete their first year with a minimum 2.75 GPA, complete English and calculus, and apply for the summer studio program. Students who are accepted will complete First Year Design Studio I and II during the summer between their first and second years. A personal interview with the school's Admissions Adviser is also recommended during spring semester of their first year.

Application deadline is Jan. 31. All applications must include the $30 application fee, official American College Test (ACT)/Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores, and an official high school transcript which shows class rank and coursework in ninth, 10th, and 11th grades, as well as the courses that are being taken or will be taken in the senior year. Transcripts that do not show class rank and senior courses cannot be considered. All completed applications received by the deadline will be reviewed. Applicants will be considered based on the following criteria:

- high school GPA
- high school class rank, and
- ACT/SAT scores.

Applicants will be notified of their admission status by March 1. Those offered admission to the architecture program must notify the school of their decision by April 1. Admission not confirmed by this date will be offered to alternates.

Requirements for Admission for Transfer Students

Only transfer students or current change of major students with a GPA of 2.75 or above will be considered for admission. This GPA must be based upon a minimum of 24 semester hours of college-level work. (Transfer students with less than 24 semester credit hours will be considered after completing additional work at Kent State.)

Transfer or current student applicants who have completed English, calculus, or physics but have no background in architecture from NAAB accredited schools must apply for admission to the summer studio program. Enrollment in these courses during the summer reduces students' formal education time by as much as one year. Applications for summer session entry are due by May 15.

All students requesting transfer of credit for architecture courses taken at a school accredited by the NAAB shall present a list of such courses to the admissions adviser of the School of Architecture and Environmental Design for review and assessment. No credit will be given for courses with grades less than C. A portfolio of work is required for students seeking transfer of credit for studio courses. A personal interview with the school's Admissions Adviser is also recommended. Credit is not given for architecture courses taken at schools not accredited by the NAAB.

Applications for transfer students plus the course evaluation and portfolio must be received by:

- May 15 for fall semester entry,
- November 15 for spring semester entry, and
- May 15 for summer session entry.

Upon review of completed credentials, the school's Admissions Adviser will notify transfer applicants of action taken regarding acceptance or rejection. Students accepted into the program will be advised of courses to be taken upon entry.

Admission for Postundergraduates

Candidates for postundergraduate study in architecture must submit applications by May 15. Students seeking admission as postundergraduate candidates for the Bachelor of Architecture degree should contact the university Office of Admissions for details of requirements. (Postundergraduates with no background in architecture from NAAB accredited schools must apply for admission to the summer studio program.) A personal interview with the school's Admissions Adviser is also recommended.

Requirements for Admission for International Transfer Students

International students seeking admission to the School of Architecture and Environmental Design must have completed one year (24 semester hours) of college-level work at a foreign or U.S. institution prior to consideration for admission to the architecture program.

In addition, applicants for undergraduate study must have a minimum GPA of 2.75, have successfully completed one year of college English in the United States and one year of college mathematics, including calculus, and must apply to the summer studio program.

Normally credit for architecture courses taken at international universities is not transferable. However, it is advised that all applicants submit a course evaluation list to the school's Admissions Adviser for review and assessment, including course title, course description and grades received. No credit will be given for courses with grades less than C. A portfolio of work is required for students seeking credit for studio courses taken elsewhere. If possible, a personal interview with the school's Admissions Adviser is advised.

Applications for international students, plus course evaluation sheets and portfolio, must be received by May 15 for summer entry or fall semester entry. For further information, contact the university's Office of Admissions.

Summer Studio Program—First Year Design Studio I and II

All transfer, postundergraduate, change of major, and NAAB transfers without studio work must apply for the summer studio. The application must be received by May 15. Students who successfully complete the summer studio program are admitted to the architecture major during the fall semester. Admission requirements for the summer studio program include completion of 6 semester hours of English composition, completion of one year of math including calculus or one year of college level physics and a minimum GPA of 2.75 with at least 24 semester hours of completed work. Students with completed course and hour requirements are rank ordered by GPA. Space available is limited to approximately 30 students each year. Notification occurs during the last week in May.

Licensing of Architects

All states require licenses or certificates for the practice of architecture. Laws governing such licensing vary from state to state. In Ohio an architect may practice professionally upon satisfactorily completing a professional examination administered by the Ohio State Board of Examiners of Architects.

Applicants with a professional degree, Bachelor of Architecture, will qualify to take the professional examination after three years of internship with a registered architect.

The mission of the School of Art is to provide a comprehensive and superior professionally- oriented education in the study and practice of the visual arts that will complement university studies in the liberal arts, humanities and sciences. In support of this mission, the School of Art is committed to liberal education as a necessary ground and complement to the development of perception, intellect, imagination and skill in the visual arts; to knowledge of the history of the visual arts as a basis for aesthetic sensibility and personal expression; to development of skill in the use of traditional and experimental media; to the practice and communication of the unity of form, meaning and value in art, craft and design; and to excellence in curricula and instruction.

The School of Art is composed of five undergraduate divisions: (1) Art Education, (2) Art History, (3) Crafts, (4) Visual Communication Design, and (5) Fine Arts. Degree programs in graduate studies are offered in the above divisions.

The Office of Admissions will process all applications with respect to the general qualifications for admission to the university for new freshmen and transfer students.

The School of Art recognizes that competence in the visual arts as well as intellectual capacity are necessary qualities in students who plan to prepare for a career in one of the art fields. Therefore, the right is reserved to require evidence of achievement in art and related areas from all students endeavoring to enroll for the first time as majors in the School of Art. Early admission is recommended. To receive a baccalaureate degree from the School of Art, a student must, in addition to other requirements, satisfy the 36-hour minimum stipulated in the LERs. (See pages 77-80 of this Catalog.)

Transfer Students

Students meeting the general requirements for transfer admission will receive an art application. It is required that a portfolio be submitted for review. Students who have transfer credits in art must complete a minimum of 15 hours in residence. The director of the School of Art may impose additional requirements considered reasonable and necessary. Transfer credits are evaluated consistent with the university policy, although each student will be evaluated individually in terms of his or her ability to perform within the program. A transfer applicant's strengths and deficiencies will be considered and his or her transfer credits will reflect that consideration. Transfer students should make every effort to complete admission requirements before the deadlines listed under "Entering the University" at the front of the Catalog, and to see an adviser in the School of Art for an evaluation of the portfolio and for schedule planning before registration.

Students are permitted to double major in more than one division of the School of Art or more than one concentration in the same division if they:

1. Complete a minimum of 21 additional semester hours of credit beyond the first degree in the second concentration or major at Kent State; at least 15 of these hours must be taken in upper-division art courses.
2. Successfully pass all portfolio reviews, tests and a senior project (the credits earned in these requirements do not apply toward the previously stated 21 semester hours).

The School of Art does not offer a double major in the B.A. programs in crafts or in fine arts. A student taking a second major in art history must complete the language requirement. The program requirements for a double major must be approved in writing by either the assistant director or division coordinator and be a part of the student's permanent file.

Visual Communication Design

The intention and emphasis of the visual communication design degree programs is the preparation of students for the graphic design and illustration professions. Specifically, the intent of the program is to develop technical proficiency, aesthetic sensibility and design expertise in the organization of imagery and typography to communicate information in two-dimensional form by graphics for print, video, and interactive electronic multiple media, and in three-dimensional form through packaging, exhibition and environmental graphics.

The Bachelor of Arts Degree in Visual Communication Design is a four-year degree program with emphasis on professional business and technical skills. Students must pass Junior Portfolio Review and have a minimum GPA in the major of 2.25 to proceed with major coursework. An overall GPA of 2.00 and a major GPA of 2.25 will be required for graduation.

The Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree in Visual Communication Design is a four- and one-half-year degree program with an option of a minor or a senior project and optional concentrations in 2D Graphic Design, 3D Graphic Design, and Illustration. In addition to professional business and technical skills, this degree program requires a demonstrated conceptual and visual ability. Admission to and graduation from this program requires passing Junior Portfolio Review, an overall GPA of 2.50, and a minimum GPA in the major of 2.75.

The Combined Bachelor of Science/Master of Arts Degrees in Visual Communication Design is a five-year degree program with optional concentrations in 2D Graphic Design, 3D Graphic Design, and Illustration. Students passing Junior Portfolio Review; having completed a minimum of 96 semester hours; demonstrating excellence in formal organization and conceptual problem solving abilities and technical skills; a minimum 3.00 overall GPA; and a 3.25 in the major, will be invited or may petition to enter this program. An overall GPA of 3.00 and a major GPA of 3.00 in both the bachelor's and master's programs will be required for graduation.

It is recommended that students at a Regional Campus and transfers from inside or outside the university who anticipate majoring in visual communication design make an appointment with an adviser in the visual communication design area as soon as possible after admission to outline a program to avoid complications in completing the degree within the designated credit hours and time frame.

X. Graduate Level Courses	32
TOTAL	150

Minimum undergraduate credit hours: 118

Minimum graduate credit hours: 32

See the Visual Communication Design Division Coordinator for specific details on the Combined Degree Programs.

Up to a maximum of 12 semester hours of courses taken at the graduate level may be used to satisfy requirements for both the B.S. and M.A. degrees. Courses listed for 3 semester credit hours at the undergraduate (40000) level are the equivalent of 2 semester credit hours at the graduate (50000) level, except as noted.

Option: The combined B.S./M.A. degree program allows the selection of completing a 6 credit hour M.A. Thesis or a 4- credit-hour M.A. Project with the addition of 2 credit hours of coursework in the major.

The B.S. degree will not be awarded separately from the combined B.S./M.A. degrees in Visual Communication Design. In the unusual circumstance that students are unable to complete the combined degree program after acceptance and completion of coursework toward the degrees, they will be required to complete either the B.A. or the B.F.A. degree. All courses taken in pursuit of the combined degree program may be applied to either of these degrees except the 2 semester credit hours of Individual Investigation 43096 and any thesis credit hours. All other requirements for either degree must be completed.

After admittance to the Combined B.S./M.A. degree program a student may change to a Combined Bachelor of Science/Master of Fine Arts degree program with the permission of the VCD Coordinator, the School Graduate Coordinator and the Dean of the College through submission of a change of degree program form. The Combined

B.S./M.F.A. degree program requires an additional 28 semester credit hours of graduate work, which includes a 6-credit-hour M.F.A. Thesis, beyond the 32 required for the B.S./M.A. degree program.

Special Requirement 1

ART 23201, Introduction to Typography. 3 Credit Hours
Admission to Introduction to Typography requires students to receive a B or better grade in ART 13003, Introduction to Graphic Design, and to have completed a minimum of 21 semester credit hours of academic courses with a GPA of 2.25.

Special Requirement 2

ART 23009, Sophomore Examination/Portfolio Review (1 Credit Hour)
Sophomore Examination/Portfolio Review (must be taken concurrently with ART 23007), to review the creative ability and technical skills of students wishing to pursue courses or a major in visual communication design will be based on the quality of a portfolio of work selected from basic courses 13003, 13007, 23007, 23101, 23102, 23201, 23302 and a day long test of technical skills and aesthetic abilities. Failure to pass the review will prohibit admission to ART 33101 and 33201. Students not passing, however, may re-review in any semester. A student failing the review a second time will not be permitted to re-review or pursue the B.A. or B.F.A. program in visual communication design. Students will receive counseling concerning strengths and weaknesses in their work and suggestions of alternative programs in art, journalism, etc.

Special Requirement 3

ART 33009, Junior Portfolio Review Graphic Design/Illustration (1 Credit Hour)
Junior Portfolio Review Graphic Design/Illustration, must be taken concurrently with 33203, after completion of ART 33101, 33103 and 33201. Junior Portfolio Review is an examination in conference with the visual communication design faculty acting as committee. Action by this committee may include assignment of additional work above normal graduation requirements in areas of apparent deficiencies, or a recommendation that the student not continue in the curriculum. Recommendations for remedial work may be at the 1/2/30000-course level. Students failing to complete this junior portfolio review successfully will not be permitted to register for additional courses or continue as a candidate for the B.A. or B.F.A. in visual communication design.

Special Requirement 4

A minor is required for the B.A. degree and is one of two program options available in the B.F.A. degree—15 to 21 credit hours depending upon the minor selected. A student may elect to take a block of coursework in lieu of a minor. The coursework must be approved in

SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATION STUDIES

This program involves the study and practice of human communication as focused upon speaking and listening in certain settings. Coursework examines the settings of intrapersonal, interpersonal, group and public speaking within various organizations and professions. We study human communication processes through language, nonverbal, argumentative and persuasive interactions. Both the traditions of humanistic rhetorical theory and social scientific communication theory are infused into the program.

Undergraduate communication studies majors will complete an 18-hour core and select one of three concentrations of 12 hours. The concentrations are interpersonal communication (including group and nonverbal), organizational communication (including interviewing) and public communication (argumentation, criticism, free speech and persuasion).

Pre-COMM Requirement

To be admitted to the communication studies major, students must complete COMM 20000 Foundations of Communication. Students will be admitted as Pre-COMM majors until this standard is met.

Graduate programs leading to the Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy degrees are also available. These are described in the Graduate Schools Catalog.

The program in communication studies is intended to enable students to lead meaningful and productive lives on personal, interpersonal, and public levels, as well as prepare for a variety of careers in the professions, government, public or social service, business, industry, counseling and the ministry. For those intending to continue with graduate study, the program leads to careers in college or university teaching and advanced positions in the public and private sectors.

Scholarships and Awards

Among scholarships and awards available to students in the School of Communication Studies are the Pierce Memorial Award and the Michael Dubetz Scholarship.

Activities and Organizations

It is possible for students to receive awards, recognition and personal development by participating in the intercollegiate forensics program. Forensics includes tournament competition at other universities in individual speaking, oral interpretive and debate events. Membership in Pi Kappa Delta, national forensics honor fraternity, may be awarded and academic credit can also be earned by forensic participation. Students may also earn membership (by high grades) in Lambda Pi Eta National Communication Honor Society.

Kent State's Communication Society is an undergraduate association open to all. Information on any of these programs can be obtained at the Music and Speech Center, D202.

SCHOOL OF EXERCISE, LEISURE AND SPORTMISSION AND ORGANIZATIONMission*

The curricular focus of the School of Exercise, Leisure and Sport is directed to the study of human movement and leisure. The knowledge and understanding resulting from such a focus affects individuals and society and results in developing an appreciation of physical fitness, sport, human movement and leisure experiences. Undergraduate and graduate experiences are provided, encompassing traditional and nontraditional modes of inquiry and discovery.

The specific goals of the school are:

- To study, experience, utilize and transmit the knowledge and understanding of the human movement and leisure disciplines.
- To prepare students for professions in physical education teacher certification, physical fitness, and recreation and leisure services by developing skills, both physical and intellectual, that are requisite for professional success.
- To encourage and conduct research that will enrich the body of knowledge in the discipline and in the profession.
- To provide students in other colleges and schools within the university community courses that deal directly with one's creative, recreative and performance needs through instruction in a variety of physical activities.

Organization

The school organization includes two major academic programs: Physical Education — Professional Leisure Studies

In addition, the school's physical education basic program provides credit in various physical activities and service programs in adult fitness and motor development that are direct extensions of the school's degree programs.

Degrees

The school offers academic majors in physical education and leisure studies that lead to a Bachelor of Science degree. The school also offers Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy degrees that allow various areas of specialization.

The Graduate Schools Catalog should be consulted for more complete information regarding the graduate programs.

Academic Advising

Faculty advisers are assigned to all new freshmen and transfer students admitted to the school. All students in the School of Exercise, Leisure and Sport are required to obtain major sheets that officially list their program requirements by the end of their sophomore year (64 credit hours) from the office of the College of Fine and Professional Arts. Students are expected to meet regularly with their faculty adviser and/or the Student Development officer in Room 262 Memorial Athletic and Convocation Center Annex to verify progress toward completion of major requirements. Students with questions about the LERs should visit the college office in 202-C Taylor Hall to meet with an adviser. The final responsibility for satisfying all degree requirements rests with the students.

IX. Concentration Areas 58-69
Choose one of the following concentrations:

Athletic Training Concentration

Athletic training is an allied health profession dealing with the care of the "physically active." Athletic training includes the prevention, evaluation, treatment and rehabilitation of athletic injuries. Athletic trainers are certified by the National Athletic Trainers' Association Board of Certification (NATABOC) and licensed in the State of Ohio by the Occupational Therapy, Physical Therapy and Athletic Trainers' Board. The athletic training program is currently seeking accreditation by the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs (CAAHEP).

The athletic training education program consists of preprofession and professional components. In the preprofessional phase, the student completes a directed observation year. The professional phase begins after formal admission into the athletic training education program and includes clinical courses and clinical education experiences under the direct supervision of a certified athletic trainer.

Advancement into the professional phase of the athletic training education program is selective and is limited. Limited admission will ensure that an appropriate student to clinical instructor ratio (approximately 8:1) is maintained.

After completion of the preprofessional directed observation requirement (normally done within two to three semesters of full-time study), formal application to the professional phase of the program is made. Advancement within the professional program is controlled through the first practicum course (PEP 15092). To be eligible for this course, students must: complete 30 credit hours; make formal application to the professional phase of the program; provide three professional letters of reference; complete 150 hours of directed observation experiences under the direct supervision of a certified athletic trainer; have a minimum 2.5 GPA; secure first aid and CPR certification; successfully complete an oral and written exam based on in-service education materials; secure staff evaluations and complete a self-administered evaluation; and complete an interview with the professional athletic training staff. After these requirements have been fulfilled, students may be selected for advancement into the professional phase of the program based upon their competitive rank using their GPA, evaluation scores, interview scores and written and oral practicum scores. Those selected may enroll in PEP 15092 during the following semester.

Students who are not accepted into the professional phase may reapply the following year by completing another preprofessional year. Due to the extensive clinical component associated with this program, students may reapply only once. Students who are not selected for the professional phase of this program will work with the program coordinator to identify alternate academic programs to pursue.

Students who have transferred to Kent State University must complete the required directed observation period at Kent State prior to advancement into the program as described above. Prompt commencement of the directed observation period is necessary to complete the clinical courses and clinical experiences in a minimum of four semesters at Kent State.

Clinical Experience

Once accepted into the professional athletic training education program, students will begin the formal clinical education courses.

Directed clinical experiences and supervised field experiences are also required. Although most of these experiences will be at the university, off-campus high school and clinical sites are also required. These experiences will total 1,000 hours minimally and 1,200 hours maximally, partially accrued through clinical courses including practicum and internship, in no less than four semesters and no more than six semesters. Although the NATA requires 800 hours minimally, completion of 1,000 clinical hours minimally is required for sponsorship for NATA certification and for graduation from Kent State University. Note: Until formal accreditation by the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs, students must accrue a minimum of 1,500 clinical hours in no less than four semesters to be eligible for the NATABOC examination.

Students interested in this area of study will be advised by the Athletic Training Program Coordinator and should contact the program coordinator promptly to discuss the specific entrance, selection, health and retention criteria in greater detail.

Formal entry into upper-division coursework is required.

Exercise sciences students may minor in leisure studies. Electives are to be selected to meet the students' personal interests as well as to enhance their professional preparation. Courses may be selected from physical education, leisure studies, biology, health education, family and consumer studies, psychology, nursing or other departments where relevant coursework might be found. Students interested in research careers in exercise physiology should consult with their adviser about enhancing their science preparation.

If a minor is included, total coursework may exceed the minimum 121 credit hours required for graduation.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE DEGREE

Human Development and Family Studies

The human development and family studies major provides students with knowledge of developmental (cognitive, social-emotional and physiological) processes across the lifespan. Students are equally well-trained in family life and human development issues that occur from infancy through old age. Graduates are prepared to successfully secure a variety of positions in human services. Career opportunities include doing child and family case management in agencies such as Headstart, housing programs, children's services centers; working with adolescents to promote positive youth development in school, recreational or rehabilitative settings; and providing direct care services to senior citizens in both community-based and skilled care environments.

The human development and family studies curriculum meets the requirements of the National Council on Family Relations (NCFR). Graduates with the family life education option are eligible to receive a new credential that is growing in popularity with employers: the Certified Family Life Educator (CFLE). The CFLE provides documentation that graduates are trained to do family life education in a variety of human service agencies.

Concentration II: Gerontology

Gerontology is focused on the study of aging. Professionals in this field work with and study people across the adult lifespan including older adults, middle age adults and young adults. For example, gerontologists may assist older adults with employment/retirement issues or with health-related issues; middle-age persons in dealing with their own aging as well as adjusting to being a care giver to a frail parent; or young adults in recognizing the characteristics of successful aging.

Graduates will be prepared for work in a variety of settings with adults whose needs are diverse. Employment settings for gerontology graduates include: retirement communities with independent, assisted living and nursing care; community-based human service agencies that address physical, recreational and emotional needs; planning and policy-making agencies such as Area Agencies on Aging; employment programs and educational and leisure programs.

This multidisciplinary curriculum leads to a Bachelor of Science in Human Development and Family Studies with a concentration in Gerontology. An option is available in nursing home administration.

Interior Design

Human needs that can be fulfilled by the design of one's surroundings are stressed in a program that educates interior designers to identify, research and creatively solve problems relative to the function and quality of one's near environment. Competencies include: fundamental design, design analysis, space planning and programming, the design of all interior spaces, and an understanding of other related aspects of environmental design. This program leads to a B.A. degree.

There are several ways potential students may enter this FIDER-accredited program. Most students will enter as beginning freshmen, and must declare preinterior design as their major until they have met the specific requirements outlined below and have been accepted into the interior design major — usually at the end of the freshman year. Below are the routes to the interior design major.

1. Preinterior Design Majors:

Freshmen entering as preinterior design majors must have a composite ACT score of 22 and a high school GPA of 2.75 in order to be considered for admission as a preinterior design major. All interior design candidates will remain in the major of preinterior design until the following requirements have been met.

Preinterior Design
TECH 11083, Technical Drawing and Sketching	3
ID 14501, Studio Problems in Interior Design I	4
Fine Arts or Crafts elective	3
Choose one or more from:	3
ART 13701, Visual Organization II (3)
TECH 10001, Information Technology (3)
11071, Woods Technology I (3)
21046, Graphic Communications Technology I (3)
Fine Arts or Crafts elective (3)
TOTAL	13

Screening of preinterior design students will take place after the students have completed the required 13 credit hours from the courses listed above with a minimum GPA of 2.50 in these courses.

After the final exam week of spring semester, and if all of the requirements have been met, the candidates for admission to the interior design program must submit a portfolio of creative accomplishments. The portfolio must include representative work from the courses listed above. Other creative coursework may be included.

Selection of candidates by the interior design faculty will take place at the end of spring semester. Candidates will receive notification of acceptance or rejection three weeks after the last day of exams. Candidates will be notified by letter from the program coordinator regarding admission to the interior design program. Also, at this time students in related program areas will be notified regarding admission into the program. After admission to the program, the interior design major must maintain a GPA of 2.50 in all courses taken in the major (all courses in Interior Design, Architecture, Art and Technology).

Upon admission into the interior design major students can expect a minimum of three years for completion of the program. The program is a professional program based on both lecture and studio work. Because of this, the coursework requires the use of expendable materials. The interior design major will be expected to purchase art supplies and materials beyond the regular textbooks.

2. Change of Major Students:

All Kent State University students seeking to change majors to preinterior design must have a minimum GPA of 2.50 for all college coursework to qualify for admission. All requirements for preinterior design majors stated above must be fulfilled.

3. Transfer Students:

Students from FIDER-recognized interior design programs may bypass the preinterior design designation and be admitted directly into interior design if they present an approved portfolio and an overall GPA of 2.50. All requirements for the program must be met by transfer students from other FIDER-accredited programs.

Students from programs not recognized by FIDER must have a minimum GPA of 2.50 for all college coursework. Transfer students will be placed as preinterior design students and courses that will be required to fulfill the minimum requirements for admission to the interior design major will be prescribed through advising at the time of admission.

4. Students Who Do Not Qualify for Admission as a Result of GPA below 2.50:

See "Academic Forgiveness Policy" on page 73 of this Catalog. All of the requirements stated in category 1 above must be fulfilled.

5. Postbaccalaureate Students:

Postbaccalaureate students seeking a second degree will be evaluated for requirements on an individual basis and must have an overall GPA of 2.50 in all previous college-level work.

Application for admission to the program by the procedures described in categories 2, 3 and 4 above may be made at any time.

Detailed information on admission to this program may be obtained by writing directly to Kent State University, Interior Design Program, P.O. Box 5190, Kent, OH 44242-0001.

THE SHANNON RODGERS AND JERRY SILVERMAN SCHOOL OF FASHION DESIGN AND MERCHANDISING

Founded in 1983, The Shannon Rodgers and Jerry Silverman School of Fashion Design and Merchandising has received widespread support from the fashion industry, corporations and the public. Kent State initiated baccalaureate studies in fashion merchandising in 1971 and in fashion design in 1982.

The school offers four-year baccalaureate programs leading to Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees. The curricula combine professional preparation in fashion design and merchandising with a foundation in the liberal arts and business. Course offerings are regularly supplemented by lectures and seminars, visiting fashion professionals, study tours throughout the United States and abroad, and internships in the fashion industry.

Students are encouraged to participate in school governance and develop leadership skills through involvement in student organizations. The fashion student ambassadors serve as greeters and tour guides for school and museum functions.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission to the school is selective and limited to approximately 120 new freshmen each fall semester. Whether interested in fashion design or fashion merchandising, qualified applicants are admitted to prefashion. Preference is given to candidates with a cumulative high school GPA of 2.75 in a college preparatory program and a minimum composite ACT score of 21 or SAT recentered combined score of 980. Applicants' credentials are reviewed on an individual basis. Admission decisions can be reconsidered by submitting a written appeal to the Office of Admissions.

Postundergraduate students or transfer students with a cumulative GPA of 2.50 based on 24 or more semester hours from an accredited institution may be considered for admittance to the program. Transfer students meeting the GPA requirements with less than 24 semester hours will be evaluated as new freshmen. Priority application deadline is March 15. Transfer and postundergraduate students should contact the school office once they receive a credit evaluation from the Office of Admissions.

Students currently enrolled at Kent State University may be considered for change of major to prefashion. Approval is based on a minimum of 12 credit hours completed with a 2.50 cumulative GPA excluding developmental courses. Students should schedule an appointment with the school before applying.

WRITING-INTENSIVE COURSE REQUIREMENT

Refer to either pages 64 or 84-85 of this Catalog for specific information on the Writing-Intensive Course Requirement.

Prefashion students are assigned a faculty adviser through the Fashion Design and Merchandising advising office. It is essential to schedule regular appointments with the faculty adviser. In addition, Web-based advising is available to all students.

Students who have completed the prefashion courses with a GPA of 2.50 and who have maintained a minimum 2.50 cumulative GPA are eligible to apply for admission to the fashion design or fashion merchandising major. The student must initiate an "Undergraduate Change of Program Request" at the College Records Office, Taylor Hall, then bring the completed form to the school office for approval.

Students must be admitted to the fashion design or fashion merchandising major prior to enrollment in junior FD&M coursework. Students approaching 65 hours but deficient in prefashion coursework, GPA, or other requirements are encouraged to schedule an appointment with an academic adviser. Students who reach 65 hours without fulfilling all prefashion requirements may be dismissed from the program and required to change their major.

BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE

Fashion Design

The students acquire a thorough background in both the creative and technical areas of fashion design. Competencies in the major include fashion theory, apparel construction, pattern-making, draping, fashion sketching and drawing, design development, portfolio, and computer-aided design in preparation for positions in the ready-to-wear apparel industry.

Adequate sewing skill and a basic knowledge of apparel construction are prerequisite to the program. All design students are required to earn a grade of C or better in FD&M 15043, Workroom Techniques (2 credits), or to pass a competency review prior to enrolling in sophomore design coursework. The competency review is offered fall semester only.

It is essential that students schedule regular appointments with their faculty adviser prior to preregistering for classes each term.

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM AND MASS COMMUNICATION

The School of Journalism and Mass Communication offers professionally oriented programs on both the undergraduate and graduate levels to prepare students for positions in mass communications.

The school's responsibilities include training students for careers, providing leadership for persons currently working in the mass media and helping to increase public awareness of the role of the media.

The curriculum is designed to provide students with the benefits of both a strong liberal arts education and professional training. Journalism and mass communication requirements make up approximately 25 percent of the students' program, with requirements in other areas and elective courses constituting the other 75 percent.

Faculty members have substantial professional experience in the mass media in addition to teaching and academic qualifications. Also, a number of area professionals teach as adjunct faculty.

The School of Journalism and Mass Communication provides professional service and leadership through seminars and professional workshops for journalists. Faculty members are active in a number of professional organizations and serve as consultants to groups in mass communication.

Journalism and mass communication majors supplement their coursework with an internship in their field of specialization. Other opportunities for practical experience include news, production, management, sales, performance and advertising positions on the campus newspaper, the Daily Kent Stater; the campus television station, TV-2; the campus radio station, WKSJ; and the campus magazine, the Burr.

Students also may participate in student chapters of six national professional organizations: American Advertising Federation, Journalism and Mass Communication Honorary Kappa Tau Alpha, Public Relations Student Society of America, National Association of Black Journalists, Society of Professional Journalists and the Association of Women in Communications.

Programs leading to the Bachelor of Science degree are available for students interested in a variety of electronic media. The students may look to possible careers as radio-television performers, program production personnel, producers, broadcast sales promoters and advertisers, broadcast copy and script writers. Also available are careers in nonbroadcast and new media utilization of audio and video communication in industrial training and in public communication. Careers are applicable to both commercial and public broadcasting operations.

B.S. degree programs also are available for majors in advertising, electronic media, production news, photo-illustration, public relations and visual journalism.

Students who major in the news sequence select one of three areas of study: newspaper journalism, magazine journalism or broadcast journalism.

Students in any journalism and mass communication major may elect a minor outside the School of Journalism and Mass Communication.

In each of the baccalaureate degree programs, students must satisfy the 36-hour minimum stipulated in the Liberal Education Requirements (see pages 77-80) of this Catalog.

The School of Journalism and Mass Communication is accredited nationally by the Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communication. In addition, the school holds memberships in the Ohio Newspaper Association, the Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication, Broadcast Education Association and the Association of Schools of Journalism and Mass Communication.

For more than 50 years, the school has sponsored the Northeastern Ohio Scholastic Press Association to encourage and guide the practice of journalism at the secondary school level.

Students who wish to teach journalism and mass communication at the secondary school level may earn licensure in Journalism and Mass Communication through the College of Education.

Graduate programs leading to the Master of Arts degree also are available. These are described in the Graduate Schools Catalog.

ADMISSIONS POLICY

Freshmen will be admitted to the university as prejournalism and mass communication majors if they obtained a 2.50 GPA or higher in high school.

To be admitted to the School of Journalism and Mass Communication, applicants must meet the following requirements:

1. Have a 2.50 GPA on coursework at Kent State.

2. Have a B average with no grade lower than C in the required English courses, ENG 10001 and 10002. Applicants who do not meet this requirement must either retake the required English course(s) or complete ENG 30064 and/or ENG 30065 with a grade of B or better.
3. Complete JMC 20003, Mediamorphosis, with a grade of C or better.

SCHOOL REQUIREMENTS

Students must complete the following requirements for graduation in all journalism and mass communication programs.

Students must pass the school's grammar-spelling-punctuation test before enrolling in any of the following JMC courses: 20007, Media Information Gathering; 26001, Newswriting; 30004, Writing for Electronic Media; 30034, Programming for Electronic Media; 31002, Advertising Copywriting; 31003, Advertising Media Planning; 32001, Photojournalism I; 40006, Law of Mass Communication; 40010, Ethics and Issues in Mass Communication; 44040, Concept Psychographics; and 46001, Information Graphics.

Students electing minors that are not liberal studies in nature may need to complete more than 124 hours.

A 2.50 overall GPA at Kent State and a 2.50 GPA in journalism and mass communication courses are required for graduation. In addition, no grade lower than a C in a journalism and mass communication course will be counted toward graduation or as a prerequisite for a subsequent class.

The School of Journalism and Mass Communication requires controlled registration in a number of courses. This registration process takes place prior to the university preregistration of courses. Students must register at the School of Journalism and Mass Communication for classes indicated as controlled in the university Schedule of Classes book, and they must have the prerequisites listed and/or permission before they will be considered for controlled classes. Enrollment in controlled classes may be affected by such factors as GPA or credit hours completed. Generally, priority for controlled registration is given to students who meet advancement requirements in their program.

SCHOOL OF LIBRARY AND INFORMATION SCIENCE

The School of Library and Information Science prepares students for positions of leadership in librarianship and the information professions. The school emphasizes the preparation of master's students for professional library and information service in academic, public, special and school libraries, as well as other types of information agencies.

PROGRAMS

Master of Library Science

The school offers a graduate program, accredited by the American Library Association, which leads to a Master of Library Science degree. The M.L.S. is offered on the Kent Campus, and at The Ohio State University as part of Kent State's Columbus program. Selected individual courses are also offered at sites in Cleveland and in Northwest Ohio. The master's degree is accepted as the basic degree in librarianship, necessary for professional employment. Dependent on the course of study chosen and on personal background, M.L.S. graduates have a wide range of job options open to them in traditional library settings as well as in less traditional areas in the information field. Career opportunities outside formal library settings can be in the profit as well as the nonprofit sector.

Dual Degree Option

A desirable credential for a number of positions, especially in large research institutions, is that of a master's degree in a subject area in addition to the master's degree in library/information science. It is possible to work on two master's degrees concurrently at Kent State University. Up to 11 hours of credit may be shared between two programs.

Master of Library Science and Master of Business Administration

The Master of Library Science and Master of Business Administration (M.L.S.-M.B.A.) Dual Degree Program is designed for students planning careers in library or information center administration. Individuals in these positions need knowledge pertaining to planning, organizing, staffing, directing and controlling. Advanced education to obtain knowledge and learn skills related to these management functions enables students to take advantage of career opportunities in library settings and other information settings in the profit and nonprofit sectors.

Master of Library Science plus School Library Media Licensure

Those students intending to be licensed as school librarians by the state of Ohio must complete a required sequence of courses as established by the School of Library and Information Science and the Information Technology Program within the College of Education. In addition, they must successfully complete the Praxis II

Exam for Library Media Specialists, administered by the Educational Testing Service (ETS). Students who select this option must already hold a valid Ohio teaching license.

Advising

When students are accepted into the School of Library and Information Science, a faculty adviser is assigned. It is expected that students will work with the adviser to plan a program of study.

For more information about the School of Library and Information Science, the programs offered through the school or careers in the field of library and information science, please contact the school at (330) 672-2782, fax (330) 672-7965, e-mail SLIS@SLIS.kent.edu, <http://www.slis.kent.edu/>.

Major Vocal Ensembles: MUS 45111, University Choir; MUS 45121, Kent Chorus; and MUS 45141, Kent State University Chorale.

The above applies to all majors except students enrolled in the B.M. in piano performance. Piano performance majors will satisfy the eight semester ensemble requirement as follows: 4 hours, Accompanying 45321; 2 hours, Chamber Music 45311; 2 or more hours to be selected from chamber music or a major vocal or instrumental ensemble.

Wind and percussion majors in music education must elect one semester of MUS 45222, Marching Band, normally during the freshman year, in addition to the requirements above. Students who plan to teach music at the junior/senior high school level are encouraged to elect more than one semester of marching band.

Music minors in the College of Fine and Professional Arts must participate in a major ensemble for a minimum of two semesters.

II. Recital Attendance

Required recital attendance is intended to enhance the musical perspective of all music majors and to give them exposure to a sampling of various genres and performing media. Each undergraduate music major is required to attend a minimum four-year total of 84 concerts or recitals. Attendance at an average of 10-12 School of Music concerts per semester is recommended. Students will be notified of their status in regard to this policy once per semester. Appropriate information for all students will be sent to the college office prior to graduation. Further information is available in the School of Music Office. Transfer students must attend a minimum of 10 recitals per semester.

III. Applied Music Requirements

A. 36000-Level Requirements

All freshmen enter at the 36000 level of applied study. Four semesters of enrollment are required in the number of applied credit hours as prescribed by the declared major. A jury is performed at the end of each semester. At entrance all students are informed of the performance standards necessary to advance to the 46000 level as determined by the faculty of each applied area. Transfer students with a minimum of four semesters of applied study (or equivalent) may enter at the 46000 level as determined by the entrance audition.

B. 46000-Level Entry Evaluation

At the end of the fourth semester of applied study at the 36000 level, all music majors will be evaluated during juries to determine if they meet the 46000-level entrance standard. The results of the 46000-level entry evaluation are:

1. Pass to the 46000 level.

2. Probation for one semester.

The students will register at the 46000 level and retake the upper-level entrance jury at the end of the probationary semester. If the 46000 entrance standard is not achieved, the students return to the 36000 level, repeating as needed.

3. Failure to pass the entry-level evaluation.

The students remain at the 36000 level of applied study until the 46000 entry standard is met.

C. Required Accumulation of 46000-Level Applied Credits

1. Performance Majors: Four semesters (16 hours)

2. Education Majors: Three semesters (6 hours)

3. All other music majors must pass the 46000-level entry evaluation prior to graduation. All students must play a jury every semester except the semester of the senior recital and any other major solo performance deemed appropriate by the area.

D. 46000-Level Outcome Assessment/Recital

Performance Requirement

All Bachelor of Music performance degree candidates (piano, voice, instrumental) must perform a senior recital; all other Bachelor of Music majors (music theory, composition, music education) must perform a half recital. Students who do not pass the recital must repeat 46000-level lessons until the recital is acceptable. Music theory and composition students may fulfill the one-half recital requirement in several ways: applied performance, performance/lecture, performance of original compositions, or any combination of these. Although not required, Bachelor of Arts-Music degree candidates may perform a half or full senior recital based on the recommendation of the prehearing panel. Specific procedures and requirements are available in the School of Music Office.

IV. Advanced Standing Admission

Requirements

All music majors must fulfill certain requirements to enter appropriate advanced standing (upper-division coursework) in the School of Music. These requirements are as follows:

A. Performance Concentration

All students must meet the requirements for admission to 46000-level applied study as stated above.

B. Composition Concentration

Students may elect music composition at the beginning of the freshman year. However, the composition faculty will evaluate the students' work during the semester in which Music Theory, MUS 21122, is taken to determine if the student should continue to pursue the concentration. A 3.00 GPA is required in music theory classes. A skills test and composition portfolio are required. Specific information may be obtained from the coordinator of theory and composition. Composition majors will fulfill general requirements in music during the first two years of study.

C. Music Theory Concentration

Students may elect music theory at the beginning of the freshman year. However, the theory faculty will evaluate the students' work during the semester in which Music Theory, MUS 21122, is taken to determine if the students should continue to pursue the concentration. A 3.00 GPA is required in music theory classes. A skills test is required. Specific information may be obtained from the supervisor of undergraduate music theory. Theory majors will fulfill general requirements in music during the first two years of study.

D. Music Education Concentration

Music education majors must apply for admission into the education minor program in the College of Education during the first year. Music education majors must also pass the sophomore achievement examination in the music education division. Specific information may be obtained from the coordinator of music education.

V. Writing-Intensive Course Requirement

Refer to either pages 64 or 84-85 of this Catalog for specific information on the Writing-Intensive Course Requirement.

VI. Diversity Requirement

All students must complete a two-course diversity requirement as described on page 81 of this Catalog. One course must come from the LER requirement; the second course may be taken as a second LER, in the major area, in a minor or as a general elective.

VII. Outcomes Assessment

To graduate from Kent State University with the degree B.M. or B.A. in Music, it is required that students take a major field achievement test in music history and music theory during the spring semester of their senior year. Specific score level achievement is not required. Music minors are not required to take this music exam. Specific information regarding test dates may be obtained from the Music Office, E101 Music and Speech Center. The Praxis II Exam is required of all Music Education students.

SCHOOL OF SPEECH PATHOLOGY AND AUDIOLOGY

Students wishing to pursue this professional training program must first meet with an academic adviser in the School of Speech Pathology and Audiology located in the Speech and Hearing Clinic (Music and Speech Center).

The school offers both a nonprofessional Bachelor of Science and a combined baccalaureate-master's program (also see Graduate Study Handbook and Graduate Catalog) that meets the professional certification requirements of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA), the licensure requirements of the State of Ohio Board of Speech Pathology and Audiology and the Ohio Department of Education. By making minor program adjustments students can specialize in either speech-language pathology or audiology at the undergraduate level.

Initially, entering students are enrolled in classes under a premajor status. Application for admission to the major (Intent to Major form) submitted to the students' adviser, must be made before the completion of 64 credit hours. Students are not admitted to the major if their overall GPA is less than 2.75. Students can subsequently apply to the master's program based on either obtaining their baccalaureate degree or via the combined baccalaureate-master's program. Admission, as specified by the Graduate Catalog is not automatic. For those accepted into the combined program, graduation application for the B.S. degree must be made at the college office in Taylor Hall in addition to the graduate degree application.

Students admitted into the combined program and who wish to earn their Ohio Educator's License in Speech-Language Pathology or Audiology are able to count the graduate classes of SP&A 64525 and 64528 toward their undergraduate free elective hour requirement. No other graduate classes can be counted toward undergraduate requirements. EDPF 39525, Inquiry Into Schooling, is also required for the Educator's License.

Undergraduate students in this major typically accrue a minimum of 25 observation hours in preparation for practicum at the graduate level. A minimum of 350 clock hours of clinical practicum is required for the ASHA Certificate of Clinical Competence (CCC).

Undergraduate financial aid from the university may be affected when students in the combined program begin to register for graduate courses. Questions should be directed to the Student Financial Aid Office. Students admitted to the graduate program can compete for school assistantships. Applications for these awards are made to the Coordinator of Graduate Studies.

Writing-Intensive Course Requirement

Refer to either pages 64 or 84-85 of this Catalog for specific information on the Writing-Intensive Course Requirement.

Diversity Requirement

The 6-hour Diversity Requirement may be fulfilled by taking one course from within the LER requirement and the second course may be an LER course or an approved elective. Refer to pages 81-83 of this Catalog for specific information and course listings.

Speech Pathology and Audiology

This is a professional training program leading to the master's degree in speech-language pathology or audiology and meeting the academic requirements for certification by the ASHA and also for licensure by the State of Ohio Board of Speech Pathology and Audiology. Persons with a master's degree may be employed as speech-language pathologists or audiologists at rehabilitation centers, hospitals, schools, community clinics, physician's offices or private practice.

SCHOOL OF THEATRE AND DANCE

The objectives of the School of Theatre and Dance are (1) to develop the knowledge, spirit of inquiry and creative skills in the art forms of theatre and dance that will enable students to function effectively in the fields of theatre and dance; and (2) because theatre and dance are both humanistic studies and fine arts, to ensure not only that the students' training includes and reflects both these traditions, but that we endeavor to represent a high level of both traditions in all the school's creative and scholarly work.

To achieve the objectives, the School of Theatre and Dance offers comprehensive programs in theatre arts leading to Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Fine Arts degrees. (Graduate programs leading to the Master of Arts or Master of Fine Arts degrees are also offered. These programs are described in the Graduate Schools Catalog.) Courses are offered in the areas of general theatre, acting, dance, dance composition, dance science, dance history, directing, theatre history, criticism and dramaturgy, playwriting, technical production, scenery, lighting and costume design, makeup, stage management, theatre management and musical theatre. These programs are designed to provide basic and advanced training for teachers, scholars, directors, actors, dancers, choreographers, technicians, designers, or managers in professional, educational and community theatre, and in allied fields of the performing arts (cinema, dance, music, etc.).

B.A. and B.F.A. candidates are expected both to develop theatre skills and to analyze the relationship of these skills to theatre and theatre to the world. The B.A. degree in theatre studies is designed for students who seek a liberal arts approach to their undergraduate theatre education. The curriculum emphasizes all aspects of theatre and their interactions with other areas of study. The B.F.A. degree is designed for students who wish to specialize in a specific area of theatre or dance (acting, design/technology, dance or musical theatre). This program requires the demonstration of competency in the chosen specialty, both in auditions or portfolio reviews and via yearly evaluations. The B.F.A. candidate is expected to develop theatre and/or dance and performance skills equal to entry-level positions in the profession or as expected for admission into M.F.A. programs.

Students may indicate their interest in entry to the B.F.A. program at the beginning of their freshman year. Based on a rigorous acting or dance audition or theatre design portfolio review the students will be invited by the faculty to officially enter the B.F.A. program. The theatre division auditions or portfolio reviews may begin as early as the second semester of study. Transfer students or returning students wishing to enter the acting or design/technology B.F.A. programs should indicate their interest to the School of Theatre and Dance upon application to Kent State University. Students will be advised of the dates for acting and dance auditions or design portfolio reviews. Students who pass this audition or portfolio review may be invited to enroll in the B.F.A. program upon beginning classes at Kent State. All B.F.A. students are required to be evaluated on a yearly basis through performances, portfolio reviews, contributions to the production season and academic achievement. The B.F.A. in Musical Theatre is an interdisciplinary program offered with the Dance Division of the School of Theatre and Dance and the School of Music. Application to the B.F.A. in Musical Theatre requires an audition in each of the three performance areas: dance, music and theatre. The students must display talent and training potential in at least two of the three areas to be admitted to the program. Students who pass the musical theatre audition will be admitted directly into the B.F.A. program at the beginning of their freshman year. Students who pass the Dance Division auditions are also admitted directly into the B.F.A. program at the beginning of their freshman year.

A minimum of six semesters of study are required to complete the B.F.A. degree. All B.F.A. acting or musical theatre majors are expected to audition for all mainstage productions. All B.F.A. design/technology majors are expected to participate in at least one mainstage production per semester (this may be in addition to any production design assignment). Students in all B.F.A. program areas may be dropped from the program for failure to maintain a 2.50 GPA (B.F.A. students should strive to maintain a 3.0 overall GPA). B.F.A. acting students must pass yearly auditions; B.F.A. design/technology students must pass yearly portfolio reviews. Failure of audition or portfolio review will result in the students being dropped from the B.F.A. program. Students on academic probation may not participate in any School of Theatre and Dance productions.
